ENTER THE CAPITAL
AGAIN, ACCORDING TO
REPORTS RECEIVED AT BRITISH EMBASSY.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The situation in Mexico City assumed another phase in its rapid changes, when Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador called Bryan's attention to a report he received from the Mexican capital that Zapata forces under General Garza were about to abandon the city again and that Obregon, the Carranza chieftain in the vicinity, was moving forward to re-occupy it. The ambassador is understood to have asked what precautions for the protection of foreigners were contemplated by the American government in this event.

Bryan said later that no reports of intended evacuation had reached the department.

British officials, it is understood, are concerned over reports that the Carranza garrison at Tampico might withdraw, burning the town and possibly the oil wells in the district, in their retreat to Vera Cruz.

At the suggestion of Major General Funston, commanding the American forces on the border, Acting Secretary Breckenridge of the war department, ordered three batteries of the Third field artillery to Brownsville as a demonstration to the Mexican forces contending for the possession of Matamoras that American lives and property must not be endangered by firing across the line. A regiment of infantry was also ordered held in readiness at Texas City, to be moved to Brownsville on short notice if needed.

The ambassador reported the conversation to the state department adding that the Turkish war office informed him that no acts of violence had been committed at Urmiah. Department officials noted the statements of the Grand Vizier and war office did not coincide. The Grand Vizier said the reported atrocities were grossly exaggerated, while the war office denied there had been any disorders whatever.

TAKEN TO TASK
FOR LEASING
POLICY

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Secretary Lane, of the interior department, has been accused of blocking metal mining in the West by the official publication of the American Mining Congress. In an editorial in The Mining Congress Journal, which appears in the issue out today, the secretary of the interior is taken to task sharply for his attitude toward the proposed leasing policy.

Basis for the editorial is found in the recent action of the Wyoming legislature in formally condemning the leasing policy as being a dangerous menace to a republican form of government, and the reply of Mr. Lane to this publication.

The Mining Congress Journal takes issue with the secretary's statement that metal mining development is not blocked by the withdrawals that have been made. The editor goes into Mr. Lane's own office for the proof. He cites the Bolthoff case, which is pending before the interior department. He assures the secretary that any quantity of as pertinent examples can be cited.

Several years ago Mr. Bolthoff, of the Hendrie and Bolthoff Machinery Company, of Denver, Colorado, came into possession of several mining claims and a mill site in Clear Creek county, Colorado. After some years of work and the expenditure of many thousands of dollars upon the claims, he began the erection of a mill to treat the ore body, which his development work had disclosed, and at the same time applied to the government for a patent upon his mill site and mining claims. After spending something like $25,000 in permanent construction work and after purchasing machinery of approximately equal value with which to complete the mill, he was met by the determination of the land department that the mill site connected with his mining claims could not go to patent because of the fact that the valley had been withdrawn from entry as a water power site. An appeal was taken to the secretary of the interior. Mr. Bolthoff employed attorneys, sending them to Washington, and after considerable effort on the part of the senators from Colorado a hearing was finally arranged before a subordinate of the interior department. The case is still pending and the enterprise is still "blocked."

CURING OF DRUG
VICTIMS IS BIG TASK

(From Tuesday's Daily)

"The country is slowly waking up to the reality of the 'drug fiend' problem," said a prominent Prescott physician. "The enforcement, since the beginning of the month, of the new federal law restricting the traffic in habit forming drugs has already driven thousands of victims to the public authorities for help. In the big cities the situation is particularly distressing, but nearly every town in the country has its victims—many of them, as the public is surprised to learn, not lost souls of the underworld, but decent men and women, snared by the drug-craving through no fault of their own."

"It is not yet universally understood that the Harrison law does not necessarily deprive victims of their accustomed opium, morphine, heroin or cocaine, it merely makes it impossible for them to get it without a doctor's prescription, and any physician is at liberty to free normal man or woman again."

"Many communities throughout the country are tackling the problem in this practical way. Chicago, which is said to have at least 35,000 victims, has undertaken to provide drug treatment on a big scale; even using a school building for a hospital and already has accommodation for over 2,000 patients. New York city is doing much in a quiet way."

"In Atlantic City dozens of heroin addicts have submitted to arrest in order to be committed to the municipal hospital for treatment. The federal government may decide to open its marine hospitals all over the country for the same merciful work."

"It is said that leading society women of Los Angeles and San Francisco have been slaves of the heroin habit brought on by over-exertion at social functions and their condition made public by their inability to freely secure the drug."

HONOLULU, March 29.—The vessels searching for the F-4 and sweeping the floor of the ocean with cables report that so far no success has been attained. Naval officials have reiterated their confidence in the theory that the craft is submerged near the entrance to the harbor, basing this opinion largely on reports that fuel oil and a stream of air bubbles had been seen at the surface. TORPEDOES
SINK TWO BRITISH
VESSELSLatest Type Of Submarines Used150 LIVES LOST WHEN THE
FALABA AND AGUILA
ARE SENT TO THE BOT-TOM; GERMANY'S BLOCK-
ADE IS EFFECTIVE.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, March 29.—About 150 lives were lost in the sinking by German submarines of the African liner Falaba and the British steamer Aguilá bound from Liverpool for Lisbon. The Falaba was torpedoed in St. George's channel Sunday. She carried a crew of 90 and 160 passengers. Only 140 of the total were rescued and eight of these died later from exposure. The Aguilá had a crew of 42 and three passengers, of whom 23 of the crew and the passengers were lost. In both cases, on sighting the submarine, the captain tried to escape by putting on all speed, but the underwater craft overtook the steamers.

The speed of the submarines in overhauling both steamers show that Germany now has some of her most modern submarines engaged in blockade operations against England. The captain of the Falaba, who was one of those lost, was given five minutes to get his passengers and crew into boats, but according to the survivors, before this was possible, a torpedo was fired, striking the engine room and causing a terrific explosion in which many persons were killed. The steamer sank in five minutes.

Outside of the sinking of the steamers the only event of importance in the news which was received during the day was the renewal of activity by the Russian Black sea fleet which bombarded the forts of the Bosphorus. An announcement comes from Petrograd that the Baltic fleet is reinforced with modern fighting units, presumably with dreadnaughts built in Russian yards.

LONDON, March 29.—The official list supplied at the offices of the owners show that as so far as known at present 32 first-class passengers and 34 second-class and 49 of the crew of the Falaba were saved. Four of the passengers and four of the crew were reported killed and 61 passengers and 43 of the crew are missing.
